

2021 travelling workshops

MSK Ultrasound

Presented by Lisa Hackett

The Australasian Sonographers Association is pleased to bring this travelling workshop to Dubbo on Saturday 13 March 2021. Pain pathways will be explored with clinical assessments to assist our MSK examination.

Clinical relevance and basic assessment will be discussed in this workshop. Delegates will have the chance to send through questions prior to the workshop for the presenter to address in an open forum.

Live scanning will be carried out throughout the day.

The program

8.30am	Registration opens
9.00am	Shoulder
10.10am	Post-op assessment of the shoulder
11.20am	General hip ultrasound
12.30pm	Lunch
1.00pm	Functional anatomy pelvis and hip: what you will see and what you possibly won't
3.00 pm	Workshop concludes

About the presenter - Lisa Hackett

Lisa is a qualified radiographer and an experienced MSK specialist sonographer. She began MSK scanning in Sydney in 1993 and has been educating in the field for 20 years. Lisa currently works with Professor George Murrell, an Orthopaedic surgeon specialising in shoulder surgery and research; Dr Jeni Saunders and Dr Justin Paoloni in sports medicine; and Dr Irwin Lim and Co. in rheumatology. Lisa has presented at both a national and international level. She is actively involved in the ASA and is a committee member of the MSK Special Interest Group, encouraging further education in ultrasound imaging. She has co-authored numerous peer reviewed papers and authored a paper on Diagnostic shoulder imaging, published in 2011 in the Techniques of Shoulder and Elbow Surgery Journal. Lisa also published her landmark research on Calcific tendonitis in the Journal of Shoulder and Elbow Surgery in 2014 and presented this research as an invited speaker to the AAOS meeting in New Orleans (2015) and was also an invited speaker to the ORS meeting in Las Vegas (2015). Lisa was recently awarded a Fellowship of the ASA.
