

ASA Associate Fellowship (AFASA)

Rewarding sonographers for achievement and service

Application Guide

Why become an Associate Fellow of the ASA?

Becoming an Associate Fellow of the Australasian Sonographers Association (AFASA) is recognition of a sonographer's achievement and service in the profession of sonography by the Australasian Sonographers Association.

Awarded in recognition of professional excellence, an Associate Fellowship is held for the duration of membership with the ASA and entitles the member to use the post-nominal lettering 'AFASA'.

AFASA also forms the foundation requirement for future candidature as a Fellow of the ASA (FASA).

Entry requirements

To be conferred as an Associate Fellow of the ASA, an ASA Financial member must have a minimum of 40 Fellowship points, with points achieved from at least one activity within the category 'ASA Service' and with one activity in two of the following categories 'Education, Publications, Presentations, Awards, Leadership-Other'.

All points must have been accrued within the 3 years preceding the application date for AFASA. Applications can be submitted at any time once the 40 points have been accumulated. Table of Professional Achievements (see page 3).

Fellowship fees

$250 including GST on application. This is a one-off charge that covers our administration costs.

Review process

Applications will be reviewed by the Member Services Team. Applicants who have successfully reached the 40 points required will be contacted prior to public announcement. Claimed items that are unclear will be clarified with the Applicant, or referred to the Fellowship Panel for final decision.

Applications that do not meet the requirements or have insufficient information will be contacted by ASA Member Services.

Lodging your application

Please apply online at www.sonographers.org – Fellowship is located under the Membership menu.:

Guide:
When publishing or presenting as a result of a research project, the work must be different from previously presented/published work and not a reproduction or rebranding of the same work. Specifically, the title of the presentation needs to be different and where possible, the abstract presented to demonstrate the uniqueness compared to previous presentations/publications.

Similar topics will be carefully assessed or Points will be awarded for the first Publication or Presentation of each unique topic. Topics, data, results and conclusions presented in a variety of forms will be assessed for their individual value. A publication, presentation and e-poster on the same topic will not be granted points in all categories, the decision of Member Services or the Fellowship Panel will be final.

* Supporting documentation for all non-ASA activities must be attached to your application (e.g. Certificate of appreciation, published editorial/article [full pdf version], web link to full article, ISBN for book/book chapters etc.)

 The following are generally considered warrants for authorship:

- a. Substantial contribution to the conception and design, data collection, and/or data analysis and interpretation for that publication, plus
- b. Contribution to the drafting and/or revision of the manuscript. See the international guidelines for authorship.

Applicants of foreign language publications and activities are to provide own copy of English translation. Non-English publications will not be accepted/counted. Non-ASA activities may need justification.
