ASA Fellowship

Rewarding sonographers for achievement and service

Application Guide

Why become a Fellow of the ASA?

Becoming a Fellow is recognition of your significant contribution to the sonography profession and the ASA and is a reflection of your dedication and professionalism.

Fellowship of the ASA is an immediately recognised hallmark of a specialist of the highest professional standing. Only Fellows of the ASA can use the post-nominal (FASA), which will be recognised worldwide.

Fellowship is a symbol that the holder has not only met the requirements for admission to fellowship, but remains a member in good standing with a professional organisation that has the highest aspirations for the sonography profession and high-quality patient care.

The establishment of the ASA fellowship program is an important step towards advanced practice for sonographers.

FASA entry requirements

- 1. Successful application for Associate Fellowship (AFASA)
- 2. To be conferred a Fellow of the ASA, a minimum of 120 Fellowship points within at least 3 categories, with points achieved from at least one activity within the category 'ASA Service' and with one activity in two of the following categories 'Education, Publications, Presentations, Awards, Leadership-Other A minimum of 80 points must be for ASA-specific activities; supporting evidence for all non-ASA related activities must be included with all applications.

The 120 points are to be accrued over a 3-year period prior to the date of the application AND after having been awarded an Associate Fellowship of the ASA (AFASA). All achievements must be dated after you have been awarded an Associate Fellowship of the ASA.

Guide:

When publishing or presenting as a result of a research project, the work must be different from previously presented/published work and not a reproduction or rebranding of the same work. Specifically, the title of the presentation needs to be different and where possible, the abstract presented to demonstrate the uniqueness compared to previous presentations/publications.

Similar topics will be carefully assessed, or Points will be awarded for the first Publication or Presentation of each unique topic. Topics, data, results and conclusions presented in a variety of forms will be assessed for their individual value. A publication, presentation and e-poster on the same topic will not be granted points in all categories, the decision of Member Services or the Fellowship Panel will be final.

* Supporting documentation for all non-ASA activities must be attached to your application (e.g. Certificate of appreciation, published editorial/article [full pdf version], web link to full article, ISBN for book/book chapters etc.)

-  The following are generally considered warrants for authorship:
 - a. Substantial contribution to the conception and design, data collection, and/or data analysis and interpretation for that publication, plus
 - b. Contribution to the drafting and/or revision of the manuscript. See the international guidelines for authorship.

Applicants of foreign language publications and activities are to provide own copy of English translation. Non-English publications will not be accepted/counted. Non-ASA activities may need justification.
